

Russia, China, USA

The world has its share of crazy leaders,
From North Korea, to the Middle East.
Armed with chemicals and big bombs,
They threaten the existence of peace.

Three very big leaders in the world,
Russia, China, and the USA,
Cannot come together,
For the world to have even one good day.

Why is it, someone must be in control?
Are we so narrow minded, that we cannot agree,
That some common ground could be reached,
For people and some basic needs?

How can we be leaders in the world,
When we cannot solve even our own problems at home?
Are we really so naïve and self-centered,
To believe, not all people want to live under our control?

The people of the world are not all alike,
Nor do they believe in all the same things.
What pedestal do we sit upon,
That allows us to make the rules and how they must think?

Russia, China, and the USA,
Are like bullies in the play yard.
Using their wealth and strength,
To keep others in line.

The vocabulary of the big three,
Does not include, compassion, caring, hope, or charity.
They do know manipulation, control, and greed.
After II they are the big three!
